FINISHES

Selecting items to form a coherent and co-ordinated ironmongery package can be a challenge, particularly when ensuring that the finish matches across all products, regardless of source.

At Synergy Hardware, we appreciate the difference that a uniform finish can make to an ironmongery specification. With many years of experience managing applied, plated and polished finishes, we add true value by ensuring that your exact finish is matched.

With our wide selection of finishes, there is a complete spectrum of metallic options to choose from. In addition, we can cater for any bespoke finishes that you may need, utilising our expertise to deliver the finish that you require.

FINISH OPTIONS

Trends in materials and aesthetics fluctuate but you can be sure that at Synergy, we are adept at providing you with the right finish for your project.

The range of popular finishes from Synergy are presented in this brochure. Highlighted opposite are the brass and steel metallic options along with our colour powder coated finish that is available in any RAL colour. In addition, our standard bronze finishes are illustrated overleaf, whilst we can utilise our expertise and experience if you require a bespoke shade.

These finishes are created by our skilled craftsman who take great pride in their work. Either applied, electroplated or hand polished, the range of finishes from Synergy provide a host of decorative options that meet the highest possible standard.

BRONZE FINISHES

In recent years there has been a move away from steel metallic finishes towards the use of a wider finish palette. Increasingly, this has seen the resurgence in the use of traditional bronze patinas in a variety of different shades.

Synergy has developed a range of bronze finishes that provides a comprehensive selection across the entire bronze spectrum. As with all metallics, these finishes are reflective and their appearance can vary in different lighting conditions. The finishes outlined provide a good visual indication but we would advise that you view the finishes in person before making your choice.
